四、生活素養閱讀測驗 10% (每題 2 分) (36-37)

Ela: Melisa, look at you! You are expecting.
Melisa: Yeah. My husband and I are really excited.
Ela: Well, getting married at 18 isn't common here, and it's really nice to hear about your happy life after marriage
Melisa: I can understand, but you have to know that many girls back our hometown get married at a very young age, even under age 15.
Ela: You mean child marriage?
Melisa: Yes. That happens around the world, in South Asia, Sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East and North Africa.
Ela: I can't believe girls are called to be playing the parts of adults, at an age when they should be in school and be protected.
Melisa: You are lucky to be born in Taiwan. Poverty is the main reason for early marriage. When the family is very poor and they have many children, they would choose to send some of the girls from the house to another family. And then, bad things repeat themselves.
Ela: I really think people in those countries have to look at child marriage as a driver of all these terrible things.
Melisa: Hope the baby girl in my body can enjoy all the rights and go to school. If she wants to get married, it's fine. If she doesn't want to, that's it. She's going to decide for herself what she wants.

You gave a six-year-old boy his Laker dream
And I'll always love you for it.
But I can't love you obsessively for much longer.
But my body knows it's time to say goodbye.

And that's OK,
I'm ready to let you go.
I want you to know now
So we both can savor every moment we have left together.
The good and the bad.
We have given each other
All that we have.

And we both know, no matter what I do next

I'll always be that kid
With the rolled up socks
Garbage can in the corner
:05 seconds on the clock
Ball in my hands.
