

If Nick Vujicic Can Do So Much, Why Can't We?

Could you find meaning in your life if you didn't have your arms or legs?

Would you lose hope? Before you answer, think about the inspiring story of Nick Vujicic.

✂-----✂

Nick, an Australian, was born without arms or legs. Although life was not easy for him in the beginning, he never gave up. Over time, he learned to swim, surf, hug people, write books, travel around the world, and give public speeches. Nick may be a man without limbs, but he lives his life without limits.

✂-----✂

“Fear is a bigger disability than having no arms and no legs,” he says. After hearing Nick's story, we should ask ourselves: if he can do so much, why can't we?