At Halloween, people spend money on candy, sweets, and costumes. People also spend much money on decorations. Take a look at the numbers below.

- Candy ($2.1 billion)
- Costumes ($1.6 billion)
- Halloween decorations ($0.7 billion)

While Americans spend about $72 (per person) on Halloween, they spend more on merchandise for Christmas, Mother's Day, Valentine's Day and Easter. It's really hard to believe even sales for Father's Day cards and gifts outstrip those of Halloween.

The main theme that runs through Halloween is just to "have fun" and "free yourself". You don't have to buy presents for friends or relatives. Just enjoy the food and the costume party.
