四、閱讀測驗 6% (每題 2 分)

Did you know that bees are very important to us? Honeybees do more than just make honey. They fly around and pollinate (授粉) flowers, plants, and trees. Our fruits and vegetables rely on (依賴) these pollinators (授粉媒介).

Have you seen or heard a honeybee lately? Bees are gone in many places of the world. Most people don't know about this problem. Some American bee keepers lost 80% of their hives (蜂巢) from 2006 to 2008. A serious problem is that honeybees are disappearing (消失). Can you imagine never eating fruits? Much of American food supply (供應) is pollinated by honeybees. Without honeybees, food prices will skyrocket.

Donating money to research is the most important thing to save the honeybees. Scientists need money to study what happened to the honeybees. However, not everyone has money to donate regularly (定期地). There are other ways to help honeybees – just to tell your friends and family about the disappearing honeybee problem.

29. What does the word skyrocket mean in this reading?
 (A) rise quickly (B) drop seriously
 (C) go down (D) fly high
30. What can students do to help honeybees?
