*"Hello! We're so HAPPY to live here.
The Ocean Park is Our new HOME.
The workers and trainers here are our FAMILY."*

Have you ever seen or heard of the two sentences above? Watching dolphin shows in ocean parks has been popular in Taiwan and other Asian countries. People think the dolphins look lovely and friendly. But we need to think about some terrible facts.

First, where do the dolphins come from? Some ocean parks get the dolphins in a secret way. For example, they buy the dolphins at a lower price from fishermen. They catch, kill, and sell the dolphins without following the government rules. Second, dolphins show more and more strange behaviors because they get so bored to live in the small pools in the ocean parks. They hurt their teeth by hitting the walls or biting the hard rocks. Then, they get sick easily because of their bleeding teeth.

It's time for us to find out some scary truth behind the animal shows. If they belong to the ocean, how can they live happily and healthily in the ocean parks, which we call "home"?
