A. 41~43

I see the pain in your eyes and feeling like you do.
 I wish I could take it all away and skip these years for you.

Being a teen is so very hard, it really isn't fair.
 To go through all of this and still feel like no one is there.
 You don't have to tell me how you feel, I see it every day.
 Like nothing you ever do is good enough, or you're just in the way.

If you could see through my eyes, how confident and true.
 You're becoming a young woman, but still somewhat a youth.
 I can't make this feeling go away, I can't fix all of your tears.
 But I can tell you that I know the feelings and the fears.

If you ask me how I know all that you are going through.
 I will answer simply I know this all because...
 I have been there too.

fair 公平的 somewhat 有點
 youth 青少年 simply 簡單地

Going live on YouTube or on Instagram has been popular with teenagers these days. Zoe Lee, a junior high school teacher, is worried that her students might spend too much time sharing live videos and that they might fall behind with their schoolwork. In her class today, she had Class 910 list the good and the bad about live streaming.

| The Good   | The Bad   |
|--|---|
| * It's a good way to get to know more about people around you or superstars. | * One might get into trouble if he or she talks too much about a topic on live videos.        |
| * One can become famous by sharing ideas or everyday lives.                  | * One might use live streaming to show something dangerous or bad without thinking carefully. |
| * One can make money if he or she has a lot of viewers.                      | * One might spend too much time on the Net.   |
| * One can share something interesting easily.                                | * One might ignore their schoolwork.  |
