| Karachi, a city in Pakistan, is one of the hottest places on Earth. In 2015, over 1000 people died there during a heat wave. It was a very terrible time for people there. Shahzad Qureshi saw the problem and tried to solve it. He started a group called Urban Forest. It plants trees in cities in Pakistan. Trees help lower summer temperatures in cities by 2° to 9°F because they provide shade. So people there feel cooler in summer. At first, Urban Forest only planted about 1,300 trees in a park in Karachi. The group uses a special way that helps the trees grow quickly. In three years, the trees grew to be 30 feet tall. Since 2015, Qureshi and his team have planted eight urban forests in Pakistan. These forests not only give people shade but also provide a place for birds, insects, and other animals. Thanks to Qureshi and his team, people have a better life. | heat wave 熱浪 solve 解決 provide 提供 shade 陰涼處 lower 降低 temperature 溫度 quickly 快速地 feet 英尺 since 自從 forest 森林 |
