Chinese New Year Is a Special Time!

Chinese New Year happens sometime between January 21 and February 20. The Chinese New Year celebration lasts 15 days. People say good-bye to the old year and welcome the new year.

◎ A Time for Color: Many people wear red and gold. Those colors are thought to bring happiness and wealth. Family and friends give children small red envelopes filled with money.

◎ A Time for Food: During Chinese New Year, people usually eat dishes that have special meanings. For example, one dish is called the longevity noodles. People believe eating these long noodles means they would live a longer life.

◎A Time for Good Wishes: People decorate their homes with paper decorations and scrolls. They usually show symbols of good luck, wealth, and happiness.

◎A Time for Celebration: The Chinese lion dance is often part of the Chinese New Year celebration. People believe that the dance brings good luck. The dragon is also a symbol of good luck. A group of people might dress up as a dragon and perform the dragon dance.

2019-nCoV: How to Protect Yourself & Others

After the Lunar New Year holiday in 2020, people around the world have been worried about the novel coronavirus.

Since then, more people have gotten the virus as it has spread from a market in Wuhan(武漢) across China and to several countries globally, including Taiwan. While a certain amount of fear and anxiety is understandable, the World Health Organization (WHO) and governments globally are working to control the spread of the virus. More importantly, you need to know how to protect yourself and others.

1. Wash your hands or use an alcohol-based hand rub often, especially AFTER using the bathroom or dealing with animals or animal waste.

2. Please remember to cover your nose and mouth when you cough or sneeze with your arm or tissue.

3. Avoid close contact with other people if you feel sick and wear a mask if you go out.

In addition to the above, simply take care of yourselves: eat well, drink plenty of water, and get plenty of rest. The healthier you are the better off you will be anyway!
