The Farmer, His Daughter, and the Donkey

劇本來源：The Father, His Son, and the Donkey

All:	We know a story.
All:	We love stories.
N:	Would you like to hear a crazy story?
All:	A crazy story? Yes!
N:	We are the narrators.
F:	I am the farmer.
Da:	I am the daughter.
D:	I am the poor donkey.
G. W. O:	We are the girls, the women, the miller's wives and the old men's wives.
N:	One beautiful morning, a farmer decided to go to the market. He went to the stable and got his donkey.
Da:	Daddy! Daddy! Where are you going?
F:	I'll go to the market to sell our donkey.
Da:	Why?
F:	Because I can't afford to keep him this winter.
All:	Oh, poor farmer. He needs money.
Da:	Can I come too?
F:	OK. You may go with me.
Da:	Yeah! Daddy, will we ride the donkey today?
F:	No, we won't ride the donkey today. He has to carry a heavy load when we come back.
Da:	That's too bad. We have to walk to the market.
F:	That's right. Come on. Let's go!
N:	In a little while, the farmer, his daughter, and the donkey were on their way to town. They saw some girls drawing water at a well.
All:	My, oh my! What do I see? A crazy sight in front of me!
G:	Oh, look! How silly they are! A man and a girl are walking along beside the donkey, and nobody is riding it.
N:	The man heard this and said to his daughter.
F:	My dear, you had better ride our donkey. You are light, so you will not tire our donkey.
Da:	Yeah! Thank you, daddy.

D:	EEee-aww! Why didn't that girl keep her mouth quiet!
All:	Awwww..... Poor donkey!
N:	After a while they came to a group of old women who were talking.
All:	My, oh my! What do I see? A crazy sight in front of me!
W:	See here! The girl is riding a donkey and her old father is walking by her side. The young girl doesn't take care of her old father.
N:	To please the women, the farmer said to his daughter.
F:	Get down, my daughter and I will ride.
Da:	Yes, daddy.
N:	This time, the man got on the donkey and his daughter walked along beside it.
D:	EEee-aww! I was better off with the young girl.
All:	Awwww..... Poor donkey!
N:	Now they were very happy. Then, they met two women.
All:	My, oh my! What do I see? A crazy sight in front of me!
M's wives:	For shame! How can you let your girl walk and you ride like a king?
F:	Dear, climb up here with me!
Da:	Are you sure?
F:	Yes!
D:	EEee-aww! Double trouble.
All:	Awwww..... Poor donkey!
N:	They had almost reached the market when some women stopped them and asked.
All:	My, oh my! What do I see? A crazy sight in front of me!
O's wives:	Is that your donkey?
F&Da:	Yes.
O's wives:	Well, you don't treat him very well. Your donkey is old and weak. You two are young and strong. You should carry him!
F&Da:	That's true. We hadn't thought of that.
N:	So he and his daughter got off the donkey.
Da:	Daddy, we can tie the donkey's feet to the pole. Then raise it to our shoulders, and walk to the market.
F:	That's a good idea. Let's do it.
D:	EEee-aww! What a way to go! I'm dizzy. Whoo-hoo! EEee-aww!
N:	But the donkey was heavy. The father and daughter could barely hold him.

All:	My, oh my! What do I see? A crazy sight in front of me!
N:	Their faces were red and their backs were bent. They looked so funny. A crowd of people gathered to laugh at them.
D:	Eeeee-ore! The noisy was so loud and I didn't hang upside down.
N:	When they came to a bridge, the donkey kicked the rope away.
All:	SPLASH!
N:	The donkey fell into the water and drowned.
Da:	Oh dear! Look what has happened to our donkey!
F:	Poor me! Poor me!
F&Da:	We have lost our donkey!
All:	You can't please everyone. Try to make everybody happy and you may make nobody happy! Just be yourself! Thank you for listening to my story. Bye!

“The Little Engine That Could...Fly!”

Adaptation of the children's book by Watty Piper

Characters:

Narrator 1 (Jeffery) Narrator 2 (Tiffany) Steam Engine (Arial)
Passenger 1/Big Steam Engine (Amy) Passenger 2/Manager (Renee)
Passenger 3/Bus (Emily) Passenger 4 (Ian)

Narrator 1: A little steam engine had a long train of cars to pull. Inside the cars were people who all needed to go somewhere—and get there fast!

Narrator 2: The little steam engine went along very well till she came to a steep hill.

Steam Engine: Wow! This hill is SO steep. Why, I think it's steeper than the steepest climb on Mt. Everest—and taller than Taipei 101! I guess I have no choice but to cross it.

Narrator 2: But then, no matter how hard she tried, she could NOT move the long train of cars.

Everyone: Choo! Choo!....Choo! Choo!

Narrator 1: But no!

Steam Engine Group (5): Noooo! Nooo! Nooo! Nooo! Nooo!

Narrator 2: The cars would not go up the hill. She tried again and again. One minute passed, then two, then ten, then twenty. The passengers started to get pink, then red, then purple with rage!

Passenger 1: I'm late for work! Why is this taking SO long?! Hurry up, hurry UP!

Passenger 2: I have a dentist appointment! How do you think I can keep these teeth shiny and white, huh? Hurry up, hurry UP!

Passenger 3 (little girl): I want to go to the beach and make sandcastles with my friends! Come on, hurry up, hurry UP!

Passenger 4 (little boy): Oh boy, I'm late to help my mom at work. But I hope this steam engine is okay. That looks like a steep hill! Maybe she needs help.

Steam Engine: I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm so so sorry.

Narrator 1: At last she left the train and started up the track alone. She was sweating buckets, and red with exhaustion. But do you think she had stopped working?

Everyone: Of course not!

Steam Engine: No, indeed! I am going to ask for help.

(Song excerpt, The Beatles: Help!)

Help! I need somebody
Help! Not just anybody,
Help! You know I need someone,
Help, help, help, help

Steam Engine: Puff, Puff!

Everyone: Choo, choo! Choo, choo! Choo, choo! Choo!

Narrator 2: Pretty soon she saw a big steam engine standing on a side track.

Steam engine: "Will you help me over the hill with my train of cars, please?"

Big Steam engine: Don't you see that I am done with my day's work? I have been cleaned and shined, ready for my next run. Why should I get myself dirty to help YOU? Look at me, I am big and important. You are just a little steam engine. No, I will not help you.

Steam Engine: (sigh)

Narrator 1: The steam engine was sad and tired, but she kept going to ask for help.

Everyone: Choo, choo! Choo, choo! Choo, choo! Choo, choo!

Narrator 1: She saw a big bus. She called out:

Steam Engine (gasp for air): "Will you help me? I can't bring my passengers over the hill, can you drive them?"

Bus: I have just come in from a long, long journey. Don't you see how tired I am? I don't care about your passengers. Can't you get some other engine to help you?

Steam Engine: (sigh)

Narrator 2: The steam engine was sad and tired, but she asked for help one last time.

Everyone: Choo, choo! Choo, choo! Choo, choo!

Narrator 2: She saw the general manager of the train system in front of his home.

Steam Engine: Will you help me over the hill with my train of cars? Our passengers are very upset!

Manager: It's after 7pm and I'm off-duty. They're YOUR passengers now. Figure it out.

Narrator 1: The steam engine was so upset, but she bit back her anger and sadness and puffed slowly back to her train of cars.

Passenger 1: What's taking so long?

Passenger 2: I want a refund, NOW!

Passenger 3 (crying): My friends are waiting for me.

Passenger 4 (steps out of the train): Little steam engine, do you need any help? I can help you! You look so tired.

Steam Engine: I know. But you cannot help me, and no one else will. I give up.

Passenger 4: Don't give up! I know you can do it. I believe in you! Here, go very slowly, and I'll be in the first car cheering you on. If you think you can do it, then you'll get there, I promise!

Steam Engine: Okay, I'll try one last time.

Everyone: Puff, puff! Chug, chug, choo! Chug, chug, choo!

Steam Engine: I-think-I-can! I-think-I-can! I-think-I-can! I-think-I-can!

Passenger 4: Come on, everyone! I think we can, I think we can, I think we can!

Everyone (6 times): I think we can, I think we can, I think we can, I think we can, I think we can, I think we can!

(Song excerpt, R. Kelly: I Believe I Can Fly)

I believe I can fly

I believe I can touch the sky

I think about it every night and day

Spread my wings and fly away

I believe I can soar

See me running through that open door

I believe I can fly

Narrator 2: Suddenly, the little steam engine looked down. Her train was no longer touching the ground.

Passenger 1: We are so far up, the cars look like cockroaches!

Passenger 2 (taking pictures with camera): The people look like ants!

Passenger 3: Wow, this is way cooler than meeting my friends!

Passenger 4: You did it! You more than did it! We're flying, we're FLYING.

WOOOOOO!

Steam Engine: Wow, I did it! I did it! I thought-we-could, I thought-we-could, I-thought-we-could, I thought-we-could! Thank you for believing in me!

Everyone: Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Passenger 4: No problem! Just believe in yourself, steam engine, and everything will be fine.

Narrator 1: Far below, the big steam engine sat bored on the tracks, the bus slowly shuffled down the road, and the train manager watched TV. Far above in the clouds, the train flew faster and faster, until it reached a foreign island.

Steam Engine: My, this place looks beautiful! I see mountains and waterfalls; I see tall buildings and large temples; I see happy children going to school on scooters and happy foreigners drinking bubble tea!

Passenger 4: Let's stop here!

Narrator 1: And so it was that the little engine and her new friends traveled to Taiwan...

Everyone: Where they lived happily ever after, believing in themselves.

Adapted from: The Very Hungry Caterpillar

Characters:

Narrator-Denny

Momo (Caterpillar)-Rebecca

Momo's Mom (Butterfly)-Wednesday

Friends: Dan-Daniel

Catch-Richard

Dot-Annalise

Beginning of the Play--

Chorus:	There was a picky caterpillar and Momo was his name, oh!
Momo:	Here I am, picky Momo.
Mom:	I'm Mom.
Friends:	We are friends.
Chorus:	Now let the narrators tell you the story here we go! * (Tune: Bingo)
Narrator:	Part I Momo did not like to try new things. He only liked sweet berries. So he ate them for every meal. But as the summer came to an end, there were no more sweet berries, and Momo had not grown into a big caterpillar like his friends. One day, he began to wonder why....
Momo:	Hey Mom? Why am I so small?
Mom:	You're so small because you haven't grown up yet.
Momo:	But my friends are all a lot bigger than me. They haven't grown up yet, either.
Mom:	Well, then, maybe you should eat vegetables. We are having a salad with lettuce, tomatoes, peppers, carrots, and cheese for dinner.
Chorus:	(singing) Vegetables, vegetables, lettuce, tomato, peppers! Vegetables, vegetables, carrots, cheese, a salad! What a delicious combo, you really should try it! Go ahead and take a bite!!!! * (Tune: Savages from Pocahontas)
Momo:	But I don't like lettuce, tomatoes, peppers, carrots or cheese!
Mom:	Have you tried them?
Momo:	No.
Mom:	Then how do you know you don't like them?

Momo: Mom: Momo:	I just know. Can I have some sweet berries? I'm sorry honey, we're all out of sweet berries. But I don't want anything else. I'm going to Dan's house. Maybe he will share some berries with me.
Narrator: Momo: Dan: Momo: Dan: Chorus: Momo: Dan: Momo:	Part II So Momo went off to Dan's house. Dan was almost two times larger than Momo. (waving as he walks over to Dan) Hi Dan! You've really grown since yesterday! Yeah, Mom and Dad say that soon I'll be big enough to start my cocoon! Great! Do you have any sweet berries for me? No, I'm sorry I don't. But I have some bread, would you like a sandwich? We can make peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. (singing) Sandwiches, sandwiches, peanut butter, jelly. Sandwiches, sandwiches, get them while they're fresh! What a delicious combo, you really should try it! Go ahead and take a bite!!!! *same song tune Eww! I don't like sandwiches! (sadly) I just want some sweet berries for dinner. (thinking) Well, maybe Catch has some berries. You should ask him. Thanks, Dan! (walks away)
Narrator: Catch: Momo: Catch: Momo: Catch: Chorus: Momo:	Part III Catch likes to eat everything he can find. He is the biggest caterpillar and has begun working on a cocoon. (seeing Momo walking over to him and stepping away from working on his cocoon) Hi Momo! How are you? Hi Catch. That's a nice cocoon. How long until it's finished? Maybe by tonight. What's up? (clutching his stomach) I'm very hungry, but I can't find any sweet berries. Do you have any? Sorry Momo, I ate all my berries because I will need them when I'm in the cocoon. But I have some pizza and ice cream. Would you like some? (singing) Pizza! Pizza! Pizza and ice cream! Pizza! Pizza! And ice cream for dessert. What a delicious combo, you really should try it! Go ahead and take a bite!!!! *same tune as before Ewww! I don't like pizza or ice cream! I just want some sweet berries!

Catch:	I don't know if there are any more sweet berries, maybe you should ask Dot.
	Part IV
Narrator:	Dot is the prettiest girl. If anyone can convince Momo to try something new, it would be Dot.
Momo:	Hi Dot! How are you?
Dot:	I'm fine. (smiling shyly) How about you ?
Momo:	I'm okay. I'm very hungry. (grabbing his stomach) Do you have any sweet berries?
Dot:	(shaking her head) No, but here, have some peanuts, they are very tasty.
Momo:	No, thank you. I only like sweet berries.
Dot:	Oh, come on, Momo. Try them. They're good!
Momo:	(putting his hands up and taking a step back) But I'm sure I won't like them.
Chorus:	(start singing same tune) Peanuts! Pean-
Dot:	Stop! How do you know that you don't like peanuts? Have you tried them? You need to eat other foods to become a butterfly. Do you want to be the only caterpillar left?
Momo:	(thinking) I don't want to stay a caterpillar.
Dot:	Then try the peanuts. You'll like them.
Momo:	(carefully picking up one peanut, and then puts it into his mouth quickly) You're right, Dot! I do like peanuts! They are delicious!
Dot:	Of course they are! Do you think I would feed you something that wasn't tasty?
Momo:	No, I guess you're right. I should give other things a try! See you! Thanks! (runs off to find Catch) Hey Catch! Can I try some pizza and ice cream?
Catch:	Of course, here!
Momo:	(shoving the food into his mouth) Mmm-thanks! This pizza is really delicious! And the ice cream! It's amazing!!!! I've got to try more things! Where's Dan?
Catch:	Over there. (Momo starts running away toward Dan and Catch yells after him) Hey! Bring that pizza back! I'm hungry, too!
Momo:	Dan, Dan! Can I try that peanut butter and jelly sandwich? I just had peanuts, pizza and ice cream. They were all delicious!
Dan:	Sure. Here you go, my mom just made it.
Momo:	(grabbing a piece) Mmmm! It's so good! Can she make one for me every day?
Dan:	Maybe not every day, but sometimes, sure!
Momo:	Thanks! Now, I've got to go home and try what my Mom made! (runs away back home) Mom! Did you save any dinner for me?
Mom:	Of course, here, do you want to try this salad?
Momo:	Yeah! (taking a huge bite, swallowing, he keeps talking) It's really good! I can't believe I thought I didn't like so many things! (thinking) But I think I like pizza and ice cream better than salad.
Mom:	That's okay. There will be a lot of other things that you do and don't like.

	But it's important to try them all and find out for yourself. And, look what I found! A few sweet berries, just for you!
Momo:	(jumps up and down) Yay! Sweet berries!
Mom:	Well look at you, Momo. You've already started growing! Keep eating like that and you'll be as big as your friends in no time! You'll be a butterfly soon!
Narrator:	And Momo continued to try all the different foods and found that he liked most of them. He also grew very fast and soon was big enough to build his own cocoon. When he finally emerged, he was a very strong butterfly!
Momo:	So remember everyone, if you never try anything new, you will never grow. Try new foods and new experiences. You never know what you might like. And then you can become a beautiful butterfly like me!
Chorus:	(singing) Vegetables! Sandwiches! Pizza and ice cream! Peanuts, berries, they're all really good! He never would have known, if he hadn't tried them! So go ahead and take a bite!!!!!! (shouting) DELICIOUS!!!
Chorus:	Have a wonderful day! Thank you for listening!

Characters: Queen Stacy, narrator-Apple, pirates from the west (PW)-Bill & Ray, pirates from the east (PE)-Ruby and Meggy

Apple: Hello everyone. I will be the narrator. Once upon a time, there was a group of “pirates”. They loved traveling. They didn’t steal anything but knowledge.

PE & PW: {Row, row, row your boat. We are the pirates. (Grrr...) Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily, the world is cool and big!}

PW: We like to travel to the west.

PE: We like to travel to the east.

PW: Come on, girls. The west is cooler.

PE: No way! The east is better!

PW: The west!

PE: The east!

Apple: Enough! The pirates never liked each other but they all loved a little lady.

PW & PE: Let’s welcome Queen Stacy.

Stacy: Oh my dear people.

PE: My queen, you look so lovely today.

Stacy: Thank you.

PW: Oh my queen, you are like the sunrise on a beautiful day.

Stacy: So sweet.

Ray: My queen...

Ruby: Ray, what are you doing?

Meggy: How dare you!

Ray: Well, I am just trying to say hi. I mean hola!

Stacy: Hola?

Apple: Hola means hi in Spanish.

Ray: Our boat stopped in a land known as Spain. They hug people to say hola.

Bill: They even kiss each other’s cheek.

Meggy: How weird.

Ruby: People in Japan would never do that.

Apple: Queen Stacy doubted this and asked.

Stacy: What do they do?

Ruby: They bow.

PW & Stacy: Bow?

Meggy: Japanese are very polite.

Ruby: And they do not kiss in public.

Meggy: They bow with a smile to say konnichiwa.

PW: Konnichiwa means hi in Japanese?

PE: Yeah!

Stacy: Sounds fun.

All: {Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily, the world is cool and big!}

Apple: Yes. Those pirates were all right.

Stacy: Tell me more.

Apple: Queen Stacy now wanted the pirates to tell her more about food and drinks.

Ray: My queen, there is a land named Italy.

Ruby: What's so special about Italy?

Bill: Food!

Meggy: What kind of food?

Ray: Pizza! People put many things on the round dough.

Bill: And then you bake it. I love pizza.

Ray: Si. Si. Italians put fresh tomato sauce on the pizza.

Apple: Don't forget to add cheese.

Stacy: Hmm... Sounds yummy.

Apple: Queen Stacy was craving pizza.

Meggy: Well, we also went to an island, Taiwan.

Ray: You mean Thailand?

Ruby: No, Taiwan is not Thailand.

Bill: No?

Meggy: Guys, this is a big misunderstanding.

Ruby: You can call Taiwan, Formosa.

Stacy & PW: Formosa?

PE: Yes, it means a beautiful island.

Ray: What about the food there?

Ruby: It is "interesting".

Stacy: Interesting?

PW: How come?

Ruby: Food is actually good.

Meggy: But Taiwanese like to eat one thing very special.

Stacy & PW: What is it?

PE: Stinky tofu indeed.

Apple: Stinky tofu is deep-fried tofu that smells a lot.

Bill: Did you try it?

PE: Of course we did.

Ray: Did you like it?

Ruby: Well, I am not a big fan of it.

Bill: My queen, pizza never stinks.

Meggy: Honestly I like stinky tofu and I think it tastes good.

Apple: Have you ever tried any stinky tofu? Well, I like it and I don't care about the smell.

Ruby: Taiwanese also love a special drink.

Stacy & PW: What is it?

Meggy: Bubble tea.

Stacy: Bubble? Tea?

PW: How strange!

Meggy: The bubbles are made from yam flour and people make them into very small balls.

Ruby: After boiling them, people put (chewy) bubbles into milk tea.

PE: We love bubble tea.

Ray: Well, Italians drink a lot of wine.

Bill: Red and white wine.

Apple: Wine goes with different food.

Ray: If you have seafood, you drink white wine.

Bill: If you have red meat, you drink red wine.

Stacy: Sounds interesting!

All: {Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily, the world is cool and big!}

Apple: Queen Stacy still wanted to know if people celebrated any holidays.

Meggy: Ruby and I went to Old China in February.

Ruby: Chinese were celebrating their new year.

Stacy: How?

Ray: Do they do a count-down?

Meggy: Hmm... not really.

Bill: People in America do that.

Ray: They gather at Times Square.

Stacy: And?

Bill: At the end of the last day.

Ray: Wait to see the crystal ball drop.

Bill: And lovers kiss each other.

Stacy: How romantic.

Ruby: Chinese will gather together, too.

Meggy: And have a big dinner with family and friends.

Ruby: Everyone eats and drinks a lot.

Meggy: Children will get red envelopes.

PW: For what?

Apple: Chinese put money in a red envelope and give it to their kids as good luck.

Ruby: Yes. I got some lucky money.

Meggy: Me, too. I will have a lot of good luck this year!

PW & Stacy: Wow, sounds cool.

Apple: Queen Stacy was so excited to hear about their trips.

Bill: It is so cool to be a pirate. Grrr....

Ray: Meet different people.

Meggy: Learn from different cultures.

Ruby: And share.

Stacy: Remember

PW & PE: To respect everything and

Apple: Embrace the world

All: With love {Row, row, row your boat. We are the pirates. (Grrr...)Merrily, merrily,
